

THE GIRL'S FATHER UNDER ARREST AGAIN

Taken Into Custody After Prosecutor Talks with Child's Mother.

HELD LONG INTERVIEW.

Believed to Have Given Information Which Led to Husband's Reincarceration.

(Special to The Evening World.)
TRENTON, N. J., May 2.—Charles T. Davenport, who was yesterday discharged from the County Jail, where he was held with his wife, Laura, in connection with the sending of poisoned candy to their twelve-year-old daughter, Josephine, was rearrested to-day by order of Prosecutor Crossley.

Mysteriously the re-arrest, but as it followed a long interview of the prosecutor had with the imprisoned mother it is believed she furnished facts which led to the reincarceration
of the husband.

Of the insurance carried on the child's life only $50 is payable to the mother and $50 to the father on her death.
The police believe that the insurance provided the motive for the attempt to kill Josephine.

Mrs. Davenport was questioned by Mr. Crossley for two hours to-day, but the official refused to say what she had told him. The arrest of the released husband quickly followed the interview.
Two officers were also sent out to the Jones home at Washington Crossing, where the child is.

Although locked in the same prison Davenport and his wife have not seen each other and it is apparent from their actions they do not wish to meet.
After parting two years ago it is said that Mrs. Davenport has regularly paid the insurance premium on her daughter's life.

Davenport supported the child, and when he sent her to Mrs.
Jones a few weeks ago he said he would arrange to have the insurance policy made payable to Mrs. Jones.

The child still persists in the belief that her mother had been disappeared, saying that her mother had her so much that she would not hesitate to kill her.

TIFFANY ROBBED BY TRUSTED MAN. WHO CONFESSES.

(Continued from First Page.)

representatives of the firm and of all the money used by the workers.
He also was in charge of the time books. His opportunities for shifting the accounts were unlimited.

When he was laid off Broseau went to his home and remained there quietly.
He apparently had no other means to meet the inevitable, for he took his arrest very coolly to-day. He was at once taken down to the station and placed in a cell where, under the guard of a detective, he made the confession. He refused to give any of the details of his operations.

Broseau's method was simple. His principal tool was obtained by padding the payroll. The money was then directed to the workers. Broseau simply credited the payroll with excessive time and difference. The difference may foot up to $10,000 before the experts are through with the books.

The theft of which the police suspect Broseau and which he denies was committed under the most mysterious circumstances. The money was taken at $5,000. They were given to the workmen in the morning. In accordance with the rule, the men were returned to the desk where the workers were through with the day's work. From that desk they disappeared. Not a trace of them has since been found.

Broseau was later arraigned in the Central Street Court. He was collected and perfectly calm. He is a medium-sized man of fifty-four years, with dark complexion and iron gray hair.

GORGOS CAPTURED NEW MARKET PRIZE.

LONDON, May 2.—At Newmarket Station the two horses, a colt and a filly, foaled in 1903, distance one mile, were won by Gorgos.

Dame Agnes, a colt by Diamond
Jade, was second and Ramrod third.
Twelve horses started.

Gorgos, a rank outsider, won a splendid race by neck. A heavy crowd had gathered and third horse, Ramrod, ridden by "Danny" Maher, the American jockey, lost most of the way, but finished fourth. The favorite, Gladiolus, was never dangerous.

The betting on Gorgos was 20 to 1, on Dame Agnes 10 to 1, and on Ramrod 20 to 1.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN DEAD IN STREET.

Memorandum in Pocket Marked
"H. Anderson, Communipaw Avenue, Jersey City."

An unidentified man dropped dead in front of No. 30 Cortlandt street to-day.
He was about forty-five years of age, 5 feet 10 inches high, weighed 200 pounds, had light complexion and mustache.

The letters "G. K." were tattooed on the back of his left hand and the letters
"H. M. P." on the back of his right hand. He wore a double-breasted coat and vest and blue trousers, white shirt with black stripes and white shoes.

A memorandum was found in his pocket marked "H. Anderson, No. 30 Communipaw Avenue, Jersey City."

WITNESS LIFE-TRIP TO SAVE HER BABY

Little One Rescued, Died in Hospital, While
She Was Drowned.

HELD LONG INTERVIEW.

Believed to Have Given In-
formation Which Led to Husband's Reincarceration.

(Special to The Evening World.)
TRENTON, N. J., May 2.—Charles T. Davenport, who was yesterday discharged from the County Jail, where he
was held with his wife, Laura, in connection with the sending of poisoned
candy to their twelve-year-old daughter, Josephine, was rearrested to-day by order of Prosecutor Crossley.

Mysteriously the re-arrest, but as it
followed a long interview of the
prosecutor had with the imprisoned
mother it is believed she furnished
facts which led to the reincarceration
of the husband.

Of the insurance carried on the child's
life only $50 is payable to the mother
and $50 to the father on her death.
The police believe that the insurance
provided the motive for the attempt to kill Josephine.

Mrs. Davenport was questioned by
Mr. Crossley for two hours to-day, but
the official refused to say what she had
told him. The arrest of the released
husband quickly followed the interview.
Two officers were also sent out to the
Jones home at Washington Crossing,
where the child is.

Although locked in the same prison
Davenport and his wife have not seen
each other and it is apparent from
their actions they do not wish to meet.
After parting two years ago it is said that Mrs. Davenport has regularly paid
the insurance premium on her daughter's
life.

Davenport supported the child, and when he sent her to Mrs.
Jones a few weeks ago he said he would
arrange to have the insurance policy
made payable to Mrs. Jones.

The child still persists in the belief
that her mother had been disappeared, saying that her mother had
her so much that she would not hesitate to kill her.

TIFFANY ROBBED BY TRUSTED MAN. WHO CONFESSES.

(Continued from First Page.)

representatives of the firm and of all
the money used by the workers.
He also was in charge of the time
books. His opportunities for shifting
the accounts were unlimited.

When he was laid off Broseau went
to his home and remained there quietly.
He apparently had no other means
to meet the inevitable, for he took his
arrest very coolly to-day. He was at once taken down to the station and
placed in a cell where, under the guard
of a detective, he made the confession. He refused to give any of the details of his operations.

Broseau's method was simple. His principal tool was obtained by padding
the payroll. The money was then directed to the workers. Broseau simply
credited the payroll with excessive time and
difference. The difference may foot up to $10,000 before the experts are through
with the books.

The theft of which the police suspect Broseau and which he denies was committed under the most mysterious
circumstances. The money was taken at $5,000. They were given to the workmen in the morning. In accordance with the rule, the men were returned to
the desk where the workers were through
with the day's work. From that desk
they disappeared. Not a trace of them has since been found.

Broseau was later arraigned in the Central Street Court. He was collected
and perfectly calm. He is a medium-
sized man of fifty-four years, with dark complexion and iron gray hair.

GORGOS CAPTURED NEW MARKET PRIZE.

LONDON, May 2.—At Newmarket Station the two horses, a colt and a filly, foaled in 1903, distance one mile, were won by Gorgos.

Dame Agnes, a colt by Diamond
Jade, was second and Ramrod third.
Twelve horses started.

Gorgos, a rank outsider, won a splendid race by neck. A heavy crowd had gathered and third horse, Ramrod, ridden
by "Danny" Maher, the American
jockey, lost most of the way, but finished fourth. The favorite, Gladiolus, was never dangerous.

The betting on Gorgos was 20 to 1, on Dame Agnes 10 to 1, and on Ramrod 20 to 1.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN DEAD IN STREET.

Memorandum in Pocket Marked
"H. Anderson, Communipaw Avenue, Jersey City."

An unidentified man dropped dead in front of No. 30 Cortlandt street to-day.
He was about forty-five years of age,
5 feet 10 inches high, weighed 200
pounds, had light complexion and mustache.

The letters "G. K." were tattooed on the back of his left hand and the letters
"H. M. P." on the back of his right hand. He wore a double-breasted
coat and vest and blue trousers, white
shirt with black stripes and white shoes.

A memorandum was found in his pocket marked "H. Anderson, No. 30 Communipaw Avenue, Jersey City."

WITNESS LIFE-TRIP TO SAVE HER BABY

Little One Rescued, Died
in Hospital, While
She Was Drowned.

HELD LONG INTERVIEW.

Believed to Have Given In-
formation Which Led to Husband's Reincarceration.

(Special to The Evening World.)
TRENTON, N. J., May 2.—Charles T. Davenport, who was yesterday discharged from the County Jail, where he
was held with his wife, Laura, in connection with the sending of poisoned
candy to their twelve-year-old daughter, Josephine, was rearrested to-day by order of Prosecutor Crossley.

Mysteriously the re-arrest, but as it
followed a long interview of the
prosecutor had with the imprisoned
mother it is believed she furnished
facts which led to the reincarceration
of the husband.

Of the insurance carried on the child's
life only $50 is payable to the mother
and $50 to the father on her death.
The police believe that the insurance
provided the motive for the attempt to kill Josephine.

Mrs. Davenport was questioned by
Mr. Crossley for two hours to-day, but
the official refused to say what she had
told him. The arrest of the released
husband quickly followed the interview.
Two officers were also sent out to the
Jones home at Washington Crossing,
where the child is.

Although locked in the same prison
Davenport and his wife have not seen
each other and it is apparent from
their actions they do not wish to meet.
After parting two years ago it is said that Mrs. Davenport has regularly paid
the insurance premium on her daughter's
life.

Davenport supported the child, and when he sent her to Mrs.
Jones a few weeks ago he said he would
arrange to have the insurance policy
made payable to Mrs. Jones.

The child still persists in the belief
that her mother had been disappeared, saying that her mother had
her so much that she would not hesitate to kill her.

TIFFANY ROBBED BY TRUSTED MAN. WHO CONFESSES.

(Continued from First Page.)

representatives of the firm and of all
the money used by the workers.
He also was in charge of the time
books. His opportunities for shifting
the accounts were unlimited.

When he was laid off Broseau went
to his home and remained there quietly.
He apparently had no other means
to meet the inevitable, for he took his
arrest very coolly to-day. He was at once taken down to the station and
placed in a cell where, under the guard
of a detective, he made the confession. He refused to give any of the details of his operations.

Broseau's method was simple. His principal tool was obtained by padding
the payroll. The money was then directed to the workers. Broseau simply
credited the payroll with excessive time and
difference. The difference may foot up to $10,000 before the experts are through
with the books.

The theft of which the police suspect Broseau and which he denies was committed under the most mysterious
circumstances. The money was taken at $5,000. They were given to the workmen in the morning. In accordance with the rule, the men were returned to
the desk where the workers were through
with the day's work. From that desk
they disappeared. Not a trace of them has since been found.

Broseau was later arraigned in the Central Street Court. He was collected
and perfectly calm. He is a medium-
sized man of fifty-four years, with dark complexion and iron gray hair.

GORGOS CAPTURED NEW MARKET PRIZE.

LONDON, May 2.—At Newmarket Station the two horses, a colt and a filly, foaled in 1903, distance one mile, were won by Gorgos.

Dame Agnes, a colt by Diamond
Jade, was second and Ramrod third.
Twelve horses started.

Gorgos, a rank outsider, won a splendid race by neck. A heavy crowd had gathered and third horse, Ramrod, ridden
by "Danny" Maher, the American
jockey, lost most of the way, but finished fourth. The favorite, Gladiolus, was never dangerous.

The betting on Gorgos was 20 to 1, on Dame Agnes 10 to 1, and on Ramrod 20 to 1.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN DEAD IN STREET.

Memorandum in Pocket Marked
"H. Anderson, Communipaw Avenue, Jersey City."

An unidentified man dropped dead in front of No. 30 Cortlandt street to-day.
He was about forty-five years of age,
5 feet 10 inches high, weighed 200
pounds, had light complexion and mustache.

The letters "G. K." were tattooed on the back of his left hand and the letters
"H. M. P." on the back of his right hand. He wore a double-breasted
coat and vest and blue trousers, white
shirt with black stripes and white shoes.

A memorandum was found in his pocket marked "H. Anderson, No. 30 Communipaw Avenue, Jersey City."

MRS. DUKE NOT BUT DEFENDS HE SUIT

She Fights the Tobacco Millionaire's Action for Divorce—Huntton is Also Absent
During To-Day's Proceedings.

HELD LONG INTERVIEW.

Believed to Have Given In-
formation Which Led to Husband's Reincarceration.

(Special to The Evening World.)
TRENTON, N. J., May 2.—Charles T. Davenport, who was yesterday discharged from the County Jail, where he
was held with his wife, Laura, in connection with the sending of poisoned
candy to their twelve-year-old daughter, Josephine, was rearrested to-day by order of Prosecutor Crossley.

Mysteriously the re-arrest, but as it
followed a long interview of the
prosecutor had with the imprisoned
mother it is believed she furnished
facts which led to the reincarceration
of the husband.

Of the insurance carried on the child's
life only $50 is payable to the mother
and $50 to the father on her death.
The police believe that the insurance
provided the motive for the attempt to kill Josephine.

Mrs. Davenport was questioned by
Mr. Crossley for two hours to-day, but
the official refused to say what she had
told him. The arrest of the released
husband quickly followed the interview.
Two officers were also sent out to the
Jones home at Washington Crossing,
where the child is.

Although locked in the same prison
Davenport and his wife have not seen
each other and it is apparent from
their actions they do not wish to meet.
After parting two years ago it is said that Mrs. Davenport has regularly paid
the insurance premium on her daughter's
life.

Davenport supported the child, and when he sent her to Mrs.
Jones a few weeks ago he said he would
arrange to have the insurance policy
made payable to Mrs. Jones.

The child still persists in the belief
that her mother had been disappeared, saying that her mother had
her so much that she would not hesitate to kill her.

TIFFANY ROBBED BY TRUSTED MAN. WHO CONFESSES.

(Continued from First Page.)

representatives of the firm and of all
the money used by the workers.
He also was in charge of the time
books. His opportunities for shifting
the accounts were unlimited.

When he was laid off Broseau went
to his home and remained there quietly.
He apparently had no other means
to meet the inevitable, for he took his
arrest very coolly to-day. He was at once taken down to the station and
placed in a cell where, under the guard
of a detective, he made the confession. He refused to give any of the details of his operations.

Broseau's method was simple. His principal tool was obtained by padding
the payroll. The money was then directed to the workers. Broseau simply
credited the payroll with excessive time and
difference. The difference may foot up
to $10,000 before the experts are through
with the books.

The theft of which the police suspect Broseau and which he denies was committed under the most mysterious
circumstances. The money was taken at $5,000. They were given to the workmen in the morning. In accordance with the rule, the men were returned to
the desk where the workers were through
with the day's work. From that desk
they disappeared. Not a trace of them has since been found.

Broseau was later arraigned in the Central Street Court. He was collected
and perfectly calm. He is a medium-
sized man of fifty-four years, with dark complexion and iron gray hair.

GORGOS CAPTURED NEW MARKET PRIZE.

LONDON, May 2.—At Newmarket Station the two horses, a colt and a filly, foaled in 1903, distance one mile, were won by Gorgos.

Dame Agnes, a colt by Diamond
Jade, was second and Ramrod third.
Twelve horses started.

Gorgos, a rank outsider, won a splendid race by neck. A heavy crowd had gathered and third horse, Ramrod, ridden
by "Danny" Maher, the American
jockey, lost most of the way, but finished fourth. The favorite, Gladiolus, was never dangerous.

The betting on Gorgos was 20 to 1, on Dame Agnes 10 to 1, and on Ramrod 20 to 1.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN DEAD IN STREET.

Memorandum in Pocket Marked
"H. Anderson, Communipaw Avenue, Jersey City."

An unidentified man dropped dead in front of No. 30 Cortlandt street to-day.
He was about forty-five years of age,
5 feet 10 inches high, weighed 200
pounds, had light complexion and mustache.

The letters "G. K." were tattooed on the back of his left hand and the letters
"H. M. P." on the back of his right hand. He wore a double-breasted
coat and vest and blue trousers, white
shirt with black stripes and white shoes.

A memorandum was found in his pocket marked "H. Anderson, No. 30 Communipaw Avenue, Jersey City."

MRS. DUKE NOT BUT DEFENDS HE SUIT

She Fights the Tobacco Millionaire's Action
for Divorce—Huntton is Also Absent
During To-Day's Proceedings.

HELD LONG INTERVIEW.

Believed to Have Given In-
formation Which Led to Husband's Reincarceration.

(Special to The Evening World.)
TRENTON, N. J., May 2.—Charles T. Davenport, who was yesterday discharged from the County Jail, where he
was held with his wife, Laura, in connection with the sending of poisoned
candy to their twelve-year-old daughter, Josephine, was rearrested to-day by order of Prosecutor Crossley.

Mysteriously the re-arrest, but as it
followed a long interview of the
prosecutor had with the imprisoned
mother it is believed she furnished
facts which led to the reincarceration
of the husband.

Of the insurance carried on the child's
life only $50 is payable to the mother
and $50 to the father on her death.
The police believe that the insurance
provided the motive for the attempt to kill Josephine.

Mrs. Davenport was questioned by
Mr. Crossley for two hours to-day, but
the official refused to say what she had
told him. The arrest of the released
husband quickly followed the interview.
Two officers were also sent out to the
Jones home at Washington Crossing,
where the child is.

Although locked in the same prison
Davenport and his wife have not seen
each other and it is apparent from
their actions they do not wish to meet.
After parting two years ago it is said that Mrs. Davenport has regularly paid
the insurance premium on her daughter's
life.

Davenport supported the child, and when he sent her to Mrs.
Jones a few weeks ago he said he would
arrange to have the insurance policy
made payable to Mrs. Jones.

The child still persists in the belief
that her mother had been disappeared, saying that her mother had
her so much that she would not hesitate to kill her.

TIFFANY ROBBED BY TRUSTED MAN. WHO CONFESSES.

(Continued from First Page.)

representatives of the firm and of all
the money used by the workers.
He also was in charge of the time
books. His opportunities for shifting
the accounts were unlimited.

When he was laid off Broseau went
to his home and remained there quietly.
He apparently had no other means
to meet the inevitable, for he took his
arrest very coolly to-day. He was at once taken down to the station and
placed in a cell where, under the guard
of a detective, he made the confession. He refused to give any of the details of his operations.

Broseau's method was simple. His principal tool was obtained by padding
the payroll. The money was then directed to the workers. Broseau simply
credited the payroll with excessive time and
difference. The difference may foot up
to $10,000 before the experts are through
with the books.

The theft of which the police suspect Broseau and which he denies was committed under the most mysterious
circumstances. The money was taken at $5,000. They were given to the workmen in the morning. In accordance with the rule, the men were returned to
the desk where the workers were through
with the day's work. From that desk
they disappeared. Not a trace of them has since been found.

Broseau was later arraigned in the Central Street Court. He was collected
and perfectly calm. He is a medium-
sized man of fifty-four years, with dark complexion and iron gray hair.

GORGOS CAPTURED NEW MARKET PRIZE.

LONDON, May 2.—At Newmarket Station the two horses, a colt and a filly, foaled in 1903, distance one mile, were won by Gorgos.

Dame Agnes, a colt by Diamond
Jade, was second and Ramrod third.
Twelve horses started.

Gorgos, a rank outsider, won a splendid race by neck. A heavy crowd had gathered and third horse, Ramrod, ridden
by "Danny" Maher, the American
jockey, lost most of the way, but finished fourth. The favorite, Gladiolus, was never dangerous.

The betting on Gorgos was 20 to 1, on Dame Agnes 10 to 1, and on Ramrod 20 to 1.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN DEAD IN STREET.

Memorandum in Pocket Marked
"H. Anderson, Communipaw Avenue, Jersey City."

An unidentified man dropped dead in front of No. 30 Cortlandt street to-day.
He was about forty-five years of age,
5 feet 10 inches high, weighed 200
pounds, had light complexion and mustache.

The letters "G. K." were tattooed on the back of his left hand and the letters
"H. M. P." on the back of his right hand. He wore a double-breasted
coat and vest and blue trousers, white
shirt with black stripes and white shoes.

A memorandum was found in his pocket marked "H. Anderson, No. 30 Communipaw Avenue, Jersey City."

MRS. DUKE NOT BUT DEFENDS HE SUIT

She Fights the Tobacco Millionaire's Action
for Divorce—Huntton is Also Absent
During To-Day's Proceedings.

HELD LONG INTERVIEW.

Believed to Have Given In-
formation Which Led to Husband's Reincarceration.

(Special to The Evening World.)
TRENTON, N. J., May 2.—Charles T. Davenport, who was yesterday discharged from the County Jail, where he
was held with his wife, Laura, in connection with the sending of poisoned
candy to their twelve-year-old daughter, Josephine, was rearrested to-day by order of Prosecutor Crossley.

Mysteriously the re-arrest, but as it
followed a long interview of the
prosecutor had with the imprisoned
mother it is believed she furnished
facts which led to the reincarceration
of the husband.

Of the insurance carried on the child's
life only $50 is payable to the mother
and $50 to the father on her death.
The police believe that the insurance
provided the motive for the attempt to kill Josephine.

Mrs. Davenport was questioned by
Mr. Crossley for two hours to-day, but
the official refused to say what she had
told him. The arrest of the released
husband quickly followed the interview.
Two officers were also sent out to the
Jones home at Washington Crossing,
where the child is.